

Executive Summary

Executive Summary:

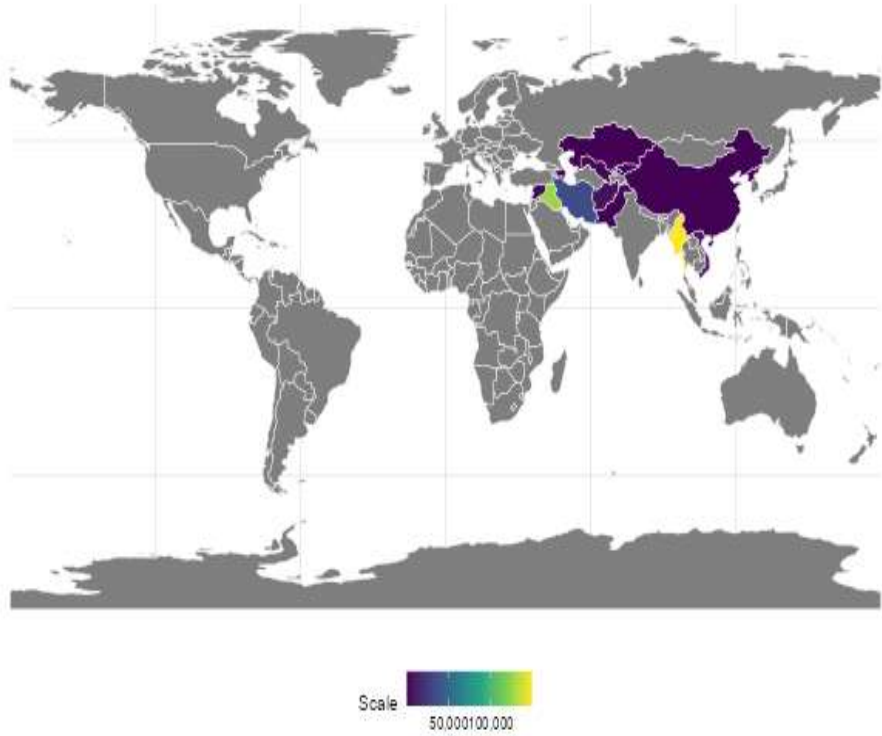

This analysis delves into the global refugee crisis, aiming to identify nations in need of better facilities for refugees. Through our analysis, we seek to understand the reasons behind refugee movements and how best to support them, emphasizing targeted support and policy reform to leverage the potential contributions of refugees to host countries. To attain our objective, we pursued several pivotal questions:

- 1.Which continent harbors the greatest concentration of refugees?
- 2.What are the top three nations accommodating the largest refugee populations?
- 3.What are the primary factors contributing to countries hosting a significant number of refugees?

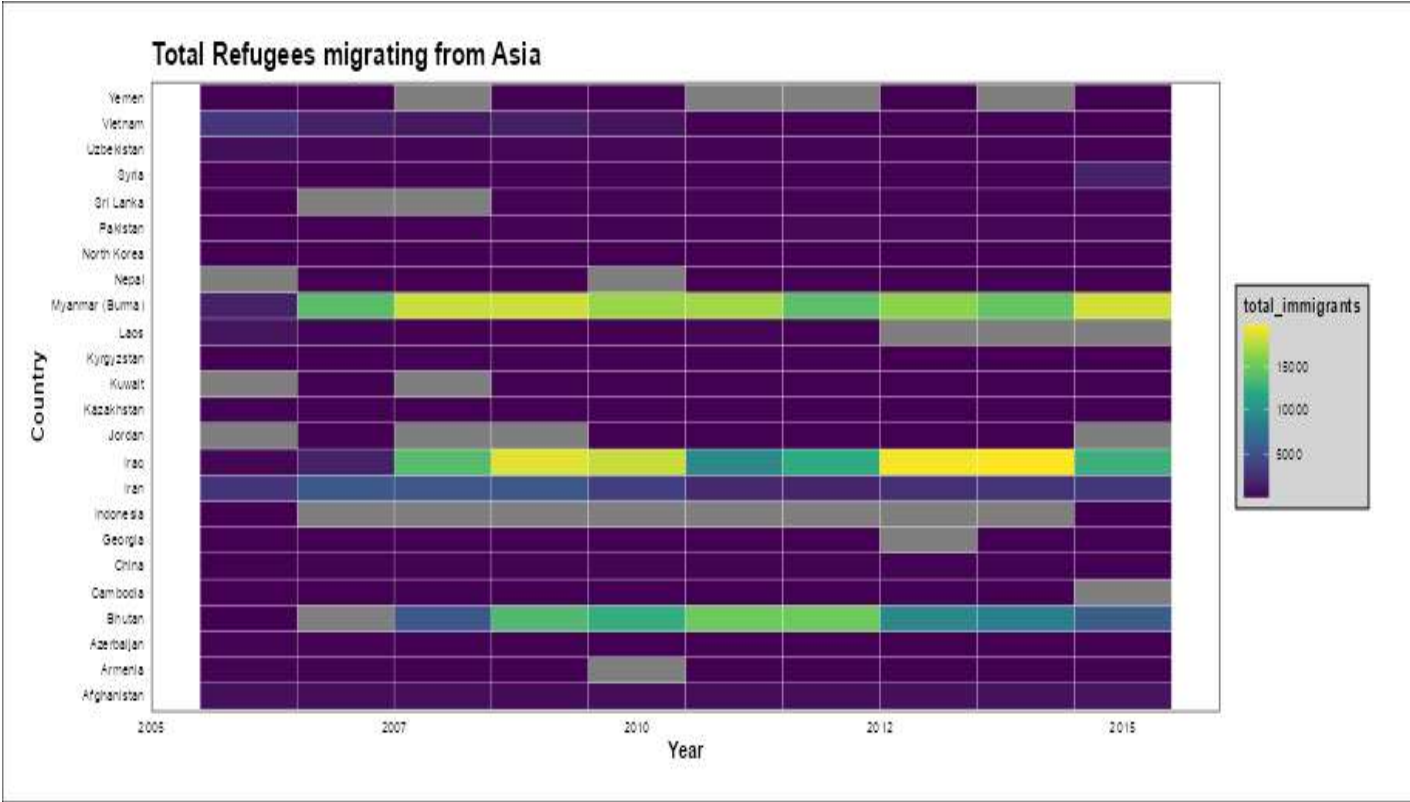

This dashboard provides visualizations of refugees data. It includes a map showing the total number of refugees from Asia, a heatmap illustrating the migration patterns from Asia, and a line plot depicting the migration rate of refugees from Myanmar over time.

Total Refugees from Asia

Geographical Plot for Refugees Count in Asia

Refugees migrating from Asia

Migration rate of refugees from Myanmar Over Time

